

REMUNERATION POLICY OF NAPATECH AS

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 The following sets out the remuneration policy of Napatech A/S for members of the Nomination Committee, Board of Directors and the Executive Management Board and incorporates guidelines for incentive-pay under section 139 and 139a of the Danish Companies Act. The Executive Management Board includes all executives registered with the Danish Business Authority.

1.2 The overall objectives of Napatech A/S' remuneration policy are:

- To attract, motivate and retain qualified members of the Board of Directors and Executive Management Board,
- To ensure the correlation between management interests and the interests of the company and shareholders, and
- To help promote long-term value creation in the company and thus support the company's business strategy and sustainability.

1.3 The remuneration policy aims at reflecting the overall interests of the shareholders and the Company. The remuneration is designed to align the interests of the management with those of the shareholders as well as to promote and support Napatech's short- and long-term vision. It is the intent that the remuneration is in line with comparable companies, whilst also taking into consideration required competencies, efforts.

1.4 The principles for remuneration evolve over time to align with Napatech's strategy, market practice and shareholders' views to ensure that a consistent and competitive structure is achieved. The remuneration principles set out herein are reviewed regularly to ensure continued competitiveness.

2 DECISION-MAKING PROCESS

2.1 The company's remuneration committee is tasked with assisting the Board of Directors in preparing and revising the remuneration policy. The remuneration policy must be reviewed by the remuneration committee at least once a year.

2.2 If the remuneration committee finds a need to revise the remuneration policy, the remuneration committee prepares a recommendation for consideration and approval by the board of directors. If the Board of Directors approves the recommendation, the revised remuneration policy is submitted to the shareholders for consideration and approval on the company's forthcoming general meeting.

- 2.3 The Remuneration Committee may consult the Executive Management Board when reviewing the remuneration policy, but the Executive Management Board has no decision-making power in relation to the remuneration policy.
- 2.4 As the remuneration of the Board of Directors consists solely of a fixed fee, which is approved by the general meeting, there is no risk of conflicts of interest in connection with the board's work on the remuneration policy.
- 2.5 The Board of Directors may, in special cases where it is necessary to protect the company's long-term interests, derogate from the upper limit for the payment of cash bonus to a member of the Executive Board. This may be, for example, in connection with the hiring of new members of the Executive Board or in special circumstances. In order to depart from the remuneration policy on this point, a recommendation from the remuneration committee must be available and the board must approve the recommendation. The Board of Directors' decision to deviate is in accordance with section 124 (1) of the Companies Act.
- 2.6 The Board of Directors may, in special cases where deemed necessary to safeguard the company's long-term interests, change the relative portion of pension payments. In such cases, for example, it will be possible to offer a new member of the Executive Board a pension scheme where the company pays up to 20% of the member's fixed basic salary. In order to depart from the remuneration policy on this point, a recommendation from the remuneration committee must be available and the board must approve the recommendation. The pension scheme will be able to run until the next general meeting, where the general meeting has the opportunity to decide whether the scheme should be made permanent.
