Businesses need to exercise caution when building their corporate social responsibility programs to ensure that their values and goals align with those of a prospective partner. Transparency and accountability are key, qualities that are part of MSF's brand, as well as demonstrated positive impact at a global level.

- Meeting a critical need: MSF is an international, independent, medical humanitarian organization that delivers emergency aid to people affected by armed conflict, epidemics, natural and man-made disasters, and exclusion from healthcare. MSF offers assistance to people based on need, irrespective of race, religion, gender or political affiliation. Its actions are guided by medical ethics and the principles of neutrality and impartiality.
- Field-tested support: MSF is a global organization that operates across different cultures and geographies, providing local support in the way that best meets the needs of the region. Similarly, Napatech is continuously working to improve local and regional support for its partners, as and when they need it. MSF will be an ideal role model for Napatech by demonstrating how to work across cultures and geographies.
- Building on trust: Just as MSF has built a reputation of trust around the world, this partnership reinforces the importance that Napatech places on its core value of being a trusted vendor for organizations looking to address network management and security challenges.

Heidi Thisgaard, HR Manager, Napatech, said:

“Our core values—responsive, daring and trustworthy—are a promise to our community to provide reliable and high-performance technology that will help them meet their network management and security challenges. We chose to partner with MSF because we believe there are many similarities in the way MSF operates and the way we conduct our business at Napatech. We are excited to partner with this fine organization and support its mission of delivering critical aid in crisis situations.”
